

PAPER SACKS the hygienic solution for the collection of kitchen waste

Small paper sacks are a sustainable choice for the separate collection of food waste, either for use in a kitchen caddy or as a stand alone container. The paper sack biodegrades completely along with the contents.

More and more councils and companies are using paper sacks because they are environmentally friendly, add structure to the compost and help with the Carbon:Nitrogen balance. Importantly they cannot be confused with any 'plastic type' sack.

Louise Howsam, founder of Biosack Limited, said: "I was becoming increasingly frustrated by the smell and mess in my Wheeled Bin and Kitchen Caddy. As a busy mother I could not afford the time or cost to keep washing these out and I knew the obvious answer was a liner. The problem was finding a liner that I was confident in and that I could trust to be genuinely compostable. Ecosack liners not only had the right environmental credentials but they also made a huge and practical improvement for me at home.

Main sack benefits

- Waterproof paper is used to contain any wetness
- The sack is 100% biodegradable
- All sacks have the OK Compost and Din Certco Certification
- The paper can "breathe", reducing odour, leachate and weight
- Paper presents a strong environmental message to householder and cannot be confused with any "plastic type" sacks.
